Tyson Stafford was named Player of the Year at the Elk Point Elks hockey awards banquet Saturday night, with a number of his teammates also picking up trophies for a very good year of senior hockey action.

Ted Genereux collected two trophies, winning both the Most Valuable Player award sponsored by Sharkey's Bus Lines and the Top Scorer award from Elk Point Insurance for an excellent season which saw him consistently at or near the top in the Sask Alta League's player standings.

Kerry Loughran, who played numerous games while injured, was named Most Dedicated Player for the Canadian Salt trophy.

Sheldon Espetveidt, playing in his first year with the Elks, won the Best Defenceman trophy sponsored by E-Can Oilfield Services. Former Elk Point Minor Hockey stalwart Shaun Moroziuk was named Rookie of the Year. A third new player this year, Leighton Grey, was named Most Improved Player.

All members of the team, as well as the coaching staff, directors, dedicated door workers Len and Diane Cole and the Elk Point Review, received team photos in appreciation of their efforts. MC Jim Hawkins gave special thanks to retiring team captain Mike Boratynec, who arranged the year-end celebration, and asked him to consider coming back for another season.

Doug Bassett, who spent this season in the timekeeper's box, applauded the team for "very entertaining games. I hope you can keep the core of the team together and win some trophies next year — you have the potential to do it."

Spray paint vandals strike Elk Point facilities

Two weeks ago, the A. G. Ross Arena was celebrated as the site of the 10-team, Midget Girls Provincial Hockey Championship tournament. Now, a spray-bomb-wielding vandal has dubbed the popular winter gathering place "Hick's House of Hockey."

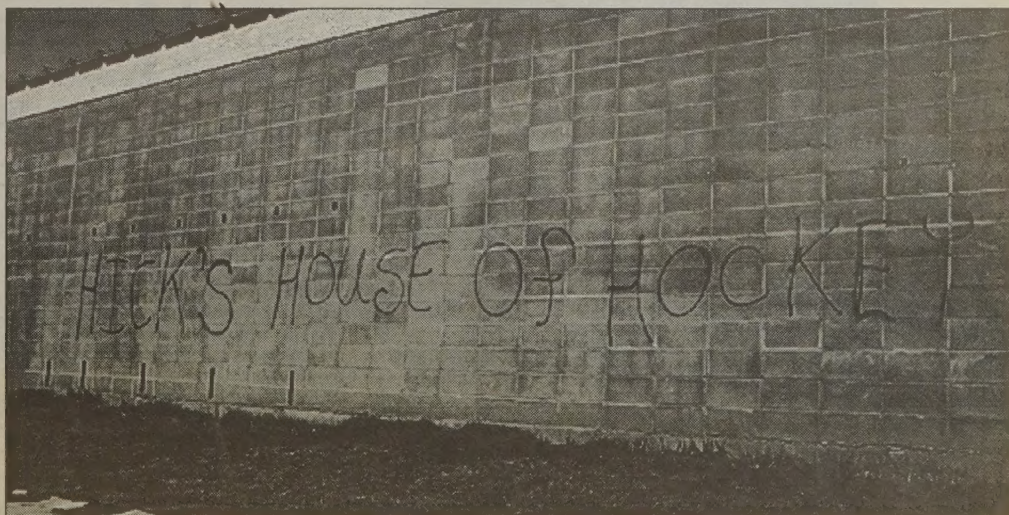

The arena was one of at least three buildings which received the unwarranted artistic renderings during the night of Wednesday, March 22. Rust-red spray paintings also defaced the back wall of the Seniors Recreation Centre with slogans reading "Capitalist Pig" and "In the dope show" along with a graphic. More extensive artwork is splashed across the snowy white south wall of the Fort George Motel.

The arena's defaced wall is right next door to the north wall of F. G. Miller High School, which received similar treatment last summer.

Elk Point RCMP is currently looking for the culprit(s) responsible for defacing the buildings.

Anyone with information on this incident is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or the Elk Point RCMP Detachment at (780) 724-3829.

NAME CALLING -- The A. G. Ross Arena, named after one of Elk Point's pioneer doctors, has been dubbed "Hick's House of Hockey" by a paint-wielding vandal.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF ALBERTA

FOCUS ON THE ALBERTA HERITAGE SAVINGS TRUST FUND

Report to Albertans

GOVERNMENT OF ALBERTA • SPRING 2000

What Does the Heritage Fund Do for Albertans?

Heritage Fund

If you are an Albertan, there are more than 12 and a half billion dollars silently working for you, your children, and your grandchildren everyday. That money is Alberta's main financial asset – the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund. It has investments in bonds, real estate, domestic stocks, foreign stocks and other financial instruments totaling $12.5 billion.

Most of the income generated from these investments goes into the province's General Revenue Fund (GRF). That money helps to support health and education programs, infrastructure, and even debt repayment. Some money is put back into the Heritage Fund so that it will continue to grow for future generations of Albertans. Alberta is the only province in Canada with a fund like this.

Where the Fund is Now?

The province released its 1999-2000 Third Quarter Update for the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund at the end of February. The market value of the Heritage Fund is $12.8 billion.

During the third quarter, the Heritage Fund earned $370.5 million. Needless to say, the Fund is performing well. In the first nine months of this fiscal year the Heritage Fund's net income was $797.3 million, $110.1 million greater than the same period last year. Most of the income was transferred from the Heritage Fund to the province's main operating fund, the General Revenue Fund. This money will help pay for priorities such as health, education and infrastructure.

The current annual forecast of the Heritage Fund net income for the year ending March 31, 2000 is $946.1 million, which is $216.1 million higher than budget estimate.

History of the Heritage Fund

The government created the Heritage Fund in 1976 when resource revenue was at a high and our economy was booming. The government realized that this prosperous economy would not last forever and decided that a portion of the province's oil and gas revenues should be set aside for future generations.

Until 1982, the Fund kept all its investment income, which helped it grow. Since then, all income has been transferred to the General Revenue Fund to help pay for government programs and services.

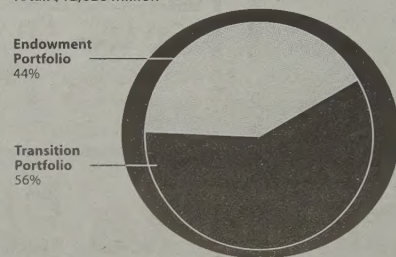

In 1995, the government invited all Albertans to voice their opinion on the future of the Fund. The response was overwhelmingly in favor of keeping the Fund, with some changes. The Fund will not be used to invest in specific projects. The new focus is on providing greater long-term financial returns while providing a steady stream of interest income to help pay for current government services.

Future Vision of the Fund

Eventually, all money in the Fund will be invested through the Endowment Portfolio. This will provide a source of income for future generations when Alberta's non-renewable resources are gone. The Fund will continue to contribute to provincial revenues to help fund government programs and services.

Heritage Fund Net Assets (Fair Value Basis)

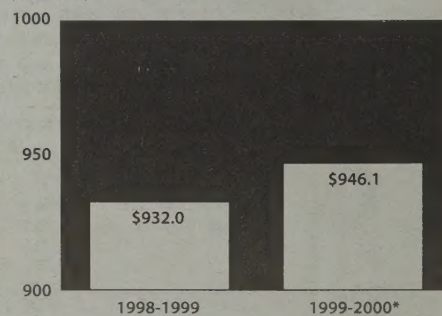

at December 31, 1999
Total: $12,828 million

Also, with the net debt gone, the Provincial Treasurer has the option to retain income in the Fund depending on the fiscal status of the province. In 1999-2000, $230 million was retained and the Fund may continue to grow in the future.

Heritage Fund Income

As part of the Alberta government's restructuring of the Heritage Fund, there was a renewed commitment to communicate to Albertans about the Fund. Albertans have continued to receive information on the Fund through the annual budget, quarterly reports, public meetings, annual reports, brochures, and the Heritage Fund website (www.treas.gov.ab.ca).

Did You Know

- The Heritage Fund was created in 1976 as a means to provide savings of non-renewable resources revenue.
- The Heritage Fund is still around today and it has investments in stocks, bonds, real estate, and other financial instruments.
- The market value of the Fund, as of December 31, 1999, was $12.8 billion.
- The Fund earned $932 million in investment income in 1998-99. The income that the Fund earns goes into the General Revenue Fund to help address Albertans' priorities such as health, education and infrastructure.

Who to Contact

The Standing Committee on the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund reviews and approves the business plan and annual report of the Fund. The Chairman is Peter Trynchy, MLA, Whitecourt-St. Anne. Volunteers have disaster training

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Boy oh boy, are we ever fortunate in our community of Elk Point! We have so many great people who volunteer!

Our first phase three Disaster Training workshop by Social Services for reception centre volunteers was held on January 20, 2000. Then a meeting with all the volunteers was held February 28. Not to forget the month of March, a more specific training on registration and inquiry workshop by the Canadian Red Cross was held on March 20.

The purpose of all this training is to prepare all our volunteers so that they will have knowledge and skills if and when a phase three disaster occurs in the community of Elk Point.

Basically, if a phase three disaster occurs, the Town of Elk Point will declare that the community is involved in a major disaster. At that point, if evacuation has to occur in a specific area of the community, the Town will then ask that a reception centre be set up. It is at this point that the assigned local volunteers will begin to function in their trained areas.

No one wants to see a disaster happen in our community of Elk Point. But... it is important to "expect the unexpected and plan for it." In your day-to-day living, disasters may seem a distant possibility. Yet earthquakes, tornadoes and chemical spills can strike almost any community, including ours. "No community is equipped to handle all the demands of a catastrophe. Help your community by preparing yourself."

We need to "know what to do before a disaster strikes." Will your whole family think clearly and logically in a crisis? Not many of us can.

"So, do your clear, logical thinking now - when you have the time to be thorough."

Look at your own situation. Prepare an emergency survival kit. Aim to have an emergency survival kit that will keep you and your family self-sufficient in your home for at least three days. If you've got a flashlight, battery-operated radio, food, water and blankets, you already have part of an emergency survival kit. All you have to do is assemble the supplies in an easy-to-carry container

(in case you have to evacuate). Make sure everyone knows where to find the emergency survival kit. Keep a smaller survival kit in your car. A blanket, extra clothing, a candle in a deep can and matches can save your life.

Know what to do during a disaster and after a disaster. In next week's article, I will give you more specific suggestions.

Basically, the main thought for today, is to think of ways you can better prepare yourself for the unexpected.

Cadets need more volunteers for Sports Weekend

St. Paul's Arrowhead Sea Cadet Corps needs at least 12 more volunteer referees for their upcoming Provincial Sports Weekend, according to Commanding Officer Lt. (N) John Brooker. "We need refs for soccer, volleyball, basketball and floor hockey on Saturday, April 15," he said. Sports competitions go from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and both morning and afternoon shifts are available.

Arrowhead is also looking for volunteer scorekeepers and security personnel for the April 14-16 weekend, and anyone interested in helping out is asked to phone John at 635-2565 or Sadie at 645-2357.

The weekend starts with the arrival of cadets from across the province on Friday evening. Saturday will be filled with sports competitions and an evening dance. Sunday starts off at 8 a.m. with a drill competition in the Polaris Arena, before the cadets parade down 50th Avenue, past a reviewing stand in front of the post office, to the Co-op parking lot, where awards for the weekend will be presented.

Hosting the Sports Weekend is a big project for Arrowhead, and the organizers hope volunteers from St. Paul, Elk Point and surrounding areas will get involved and lend a hand to make it a weekend for all participants to remember.

Write On! calls students to compete in writing contests

Students from grades 1 through 12 from the Elk Point, Heinsburg, Fishing Lake and Frog Lake areas are invited to enter a trio of Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association's "Write On" contests. Students can show off their writing skills and win some great prizes, both at the local and provincial levels.

Grade 1 through 3 students can enter the Creative Classifieds Contest. Choose a classified ad from any issue of this newspaper, then use your imagination to write the story behind it. Write no more than 200 words about the lost puppy, or the travels of that old car for sale. A copy of the ad must be attached to your entry. You could win a $100 cash prize and other great prizes. Local prize winners will be selected in two divisions, Grade 1 and combined Grades 2/3.

Grades 4, 5 and 6, here is your chance to become "Junior Reporters." Write not more than 200 words about any school-related activity, from a field trip to a sporting event. You can interview your classmates and ask their opinions and comments on the event, or report your own thoughts and opinions about it. There will be one winner at the local level.

Students in Grades 7 through 12 are invited to express your views on an issue which directly affects your community in our Write Your Opinion contest. Letters should be not less than 100 and not more than 300 words in length. You should research the topic by using the local paper and other appropriate sources of information. One local prize will be given out in the Grade 7 to 9 and one in the Grade 10 to 12 categories.

All writing must be done in school, with the exception of those entrants who are home-schooled. Your teacher may use the contest as a class project, or you may complete the work in a spare period or as part of an independent writing assignment. Entries must be submitted by your classroom teacher. Teachers will submit entries to this newspaper no later than April 14, 2000.

All local prize winners' entries will be submitted by the Elk Point Review to the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association for judging at the provincial level. A committee of experts will then select one Grand Prize winner from each category. The two winners from the Creative Classifieds entries will each receive $100 from AWNA. The winner from the Junior Reporter category will receive $300. The two winners in the Write An Opinion Contest will each receive $500 from AWNA.

The Grand Prize winners will be named in May and will have their shories published in all AWNA member newspapers in the province. Local winners will also have their entries published in the Review.

Decisions of the judges are final. All entries become the property of the AWNA.

Students registered in Alberta's public, separate and private schools and home schooling are eligible to enter if they live in an area served by one or the more than 100 AWNA member newspapers.

■ Nutrition notes

Reward yourself — healthfully

Self-improvement never goes out of style. And you may be one of many who aim for better health by eating a more nutritious diet, exercising more faithfully, and avoiding overindulgence in junk foods that offer mostly fat and calories.

This kind of change in lifestyle takes lots of self-discipline. The rewards don't come immediately. Improvements may be subtle at first. So how to stay on track?

Most people who've stuck with such changes over the long term actually took it a step at a time. Someone who now runs marathons, for example, might have started with a daily walk around the block. A person who's lost 50 pounds or more, and kept the weight off, most likely lost about a pound or less each week.

These long-term winners often use another tactic as well. They reward themselves. And they don't wait till all the pounds are gone or they've racked up thousands of running miles, either. They reward themselves often, celebrating small milestones.

This is just good common sense. It's also backed by sound psychological principles. Behaviorists tell us that any behavior that gets rewarded is more likely to be repeated.

What would make an effective reward for you? It might be five minutes reading a favorite magazine. Or taking time to romp with your kids in the yard. Or listening to a song on your stereo. Or browsing in a hardware store.

Whatever it is, make sure it's something you truly enjoy — not just something you think you should enjoy or that other people do for fun.

Secondly, make sure the reward is tied to your accomplishment. During your reward time, remind yourself of why you deserve this pleasure ("I power-walked this morning even though I was tempted to skip my workout." "I've planned my menus, and stuck to the plan, for five days in a row.")

Also, don't postpone your pleasure periods. If you let them accumulate, you're not enjoying immediate rewards for your effort — and that defeats the purpose.

A final benefit to this approach: it reshapes your thinking about food, health and rewards. Too often we think of food first when we're looking for a "treat". But a walk in the garden might make a better treat. So could a vial of essential oil that you buy for yourself. Or a phone call to a special friend. You get the idea.

So, reward yourself. Here's to your health!

Crash course in life for F. G. Miller students, guests

MADD's multi-media message packs a punch

The students of F. G. Miller High School were joined by busloads of guests from Heinsburg Community School and Poundmaker Adolescent Treatment Centre last week for a crash course in positive behavior. The hour-long, multi-media presentation emphasized the importance of making positive choices.

This was no solemn sermon, no stern-faced declaration of "thou shalt not..." This was familiar faces, from BC lions football star Damon Allan to Tarzan, from Austin Powers to Maggie Simpson, imparting the message that these teens, and in fact, all of us, have choices in the way we live our lives.

There were sad moments, as a boy who had lost his brother, his girlfriend and his brother's girlfriend who had been paralyzed told the story of their car being hit head on by an impaired driver. There was grief in the interviews with a classmate and the parents of Jason Lang, the boy killed in the school shooting at Taber.

But these was balanced with upbeat music videos splashed across three giant screens with messages about "liking me for me" and new horizons to conquer. Viewers were encouraged to do their personal best at everything from riding bareback broncs to mountain climbing to white water rafting, and were given a strong message that we all have the power to choose life and its endless possibilities over addictions, over anger and over irresponsible behavior.

Students were asked "Why do we give away our personal rights?" in favor of addictions. "You don't have to drink and smoke because you're 18." Feeling good about oneself and self-respect are valuable life skills, and can be gained by making good choices and exhibiting self-discipline and self-control.

The presentation told teens that they have the power to change the world and that they are a special generation with true greatness. The message was well presented, and appeared to be well received. "Crash Course" was sponsored by Mothers Against Drunk Driving, and FGM Principal Jim Hawkins thanked Mrs. Louise Knox of St. Paul, who heads the local chapter of that organization.

Hopefully, this crash course in life skills will meet its goal of helping to keep these students alive and on track to become successful adults.

Tornadoes sweep through Sherwood Park, defeat city teams

By Doug Bassett
Review Sports

The last time a tornado ripped through the City of Champions, it left very little standing in its path. That was over 10 years ago. This past weekend the bright lights were hit by another Tornado, but this one was smaller, and didn't do any devastating damage beyond winning three hockey games by big scores. Some real champions were in Edmonton, the Micro Novice Tornadoes were on a road trip, a two day sleep over. The actual tournament, the Tim Horton Timbits Tournament of Nations, was played in Sherwood Park, where it was started over 10 years ago with only 10 teams and grew into an annual tournament, now with over 260 other teams, and over 4000 kids from all over, the tournament lasting 10 days.

The Tornadoes were up early and won over Edmonton in the first game Saturday morning at 7:30 a.m., 14 to 0. Ken Stanley, Myles Yarmuch, Chad Nauss, Brandon Rainey, Tanner Shankowski, Harrison Maas all with singles, Mike Marianchuk, Bradley Yarmuch, Brendan Bishop and Dylan Loughran with two.

In their second game, another early one on Sunday at 8 a.m., the Tornadoes defeated Calgary 20 to 0, Mike Marianchuk, Tanner Shankowski, Bradley Yarmuch and Harrison Maas all with hat tricks, Brandon Rainey, Dylan Loughran, Quillan Lowry and Chad Nauss with two each. Sunday afternoon the Tornadoes had some competition but still defeated Lloydminster 11 to 5. Hat tricks for Mike Marianchuk and Dylan Loughran, two for Chad Nauss, singles for Bradley Yarmuch, Quillan Lowry and Brendan Bishop. Each team at the tournament is given a name of a country, the Tornadoes were given an Oilers colors jersey to take home with their tournament team name, Cayman Islands, on it as well as medals. By the way, someone who's done a wonderful job in her first year as Tornadoes team manager, and who organized this trip, Sonia Yarmuch, is celebrating her birthday today. Happy Birthday, Sonia!

March came in like a lamb, will it go out like a lion? I'm predicting it will. Storm warnings for Cold Lake this weekend. The Midget Girls Storm takes on the league this coming weekend in their final tournament, and this team with the help of the Pee wee Cyclones, are no longer just an average team. This team has new drive, new talent and some newly gained confidence that will be hard for the other teams to stop.

Girls just wanna have fun, you say? These girls want to win. The Storm played at home for the first time since the Provincial weekend in their last two league games, losing to St. Paul on Saturday night by a respectable 8 to 5 score, Krysten Ballas, Brandi Becker, Eryl Anton Roberts, Natalie Peters and Jennifer Kalynchuk all scoring for the Storm. The Storm were slow starting but picked it up and actually won the third period. Then on Sunday the Storm came out strong and took a two goal lead on Vermilion before they knew what hit them, with goals by Krysten Ballas and Jena Bassett. Vermilion tied the game shortly after and it remained tied at two all the way through the second period. Going into the third, Krysten Ballas scored on the first shift to give the Storm the lead, and the Storm never looked back after that point, Brandi Becker adding one on a real nice deflection from Jena Bassett's point shot, and then it was Krysten Ballas with her third of the game giving her a hat trick. The pee wee line was impressive, Krysten Ballas' partners, Brett Hahn and Megan Proskiw each with assists on two of Krysten's goals. The other key ingredient to the Storm success on Sunday was the excellent goaltending by Joanne "JoJo" DeMoissac who comes to play every game. There were so many games this winter when the girls were struggling, sometimes with only seven skaters, but "JoJo" always kept them in the game. The big test, of course, will be this coming weekend, when the Storm will be playing in their playoff tournament on Saturday, April 1 in Cold Lake. With the new confidence the girls now have, they will have a real good chance of winning their league. That's not an April Fools joke, folks, that's my prediction, and I'm sticking with it.

Now here's another team that struggled at times this season, but finished on a winning note, Tuesday night when they defeated Mallaig in the two game, total point playoff series, the Midget Thunder winning by two goals to become the B side Champs of the Tier 1 North East Midget League. It's just too bad they didn't beat them out in the zone to go to the Provincials, but at least they proved they could do it.

Don't forget tonight's Elk Point Minor Hockey Meeting, on the agenda, the Midget Girls provincial tournament, and the season, and a look into next season. Everyone is welcome, and hopefully we will have a good turnout and get some good feedback. Last of all, we're still looking for workers for the Minor Hockey special $100,000 satellite bingo, Sunday, April 2. Twenty five workers are required for this one, so contact Lucie Krankowski at 645-2223 if you can help out.

review SPORTS this week

Town & Country Funspiel 2000

Elk Point Curling Club wound up their bonspiel season March 24-26 with the Town and Country Funspiel, which saw curlers of all ages enjoying a final weekend on the ice before they hang up their brooms until next winter.

The action came down to some exciting final games on Sunday afternoon, with many-time-winner Leonard Gadowski skipping the A Event champions. Gadowski, his wife Shaina and veteran curler Stella Lorenson were joined by a brand new recruit: the Gadowskis' son Josh, who shows promise of following in his family's trophy-winning footsteps.

Sheldon Ballas skipped the "B" Event winners, while Tad Reed's rink won the "C" Event.

Curling winds up for the season this week in Elk Point with the League finals.

CAMERA SHY "C" Event winners were Tad and Kim Reed, Jack and Janice McIntyre, who won over Curtis Porcina, Jaime Ballas, Lori Kadutski and Troy Packett.

Lindbergh's Doug Irvine to drive the Calgary Stampede "Chickwagon"

Many men dream of having a bevy of women watching his every move. If chuckwagon driver Doug Irvine of Lindbergh is one of those men, his dream just came true. Irvine will be driving the "Chickwagon" in this July's Calgary Stampede Rangeland Derby. The "Chickwagon" gang, a group of women who went together to purchase Irvine's tarp, are raising awareness for cancer research by having their wagon race in Calgary. The tarp brought $40,000 at last week's auction in Calgary.

Irvine races with the Canadian Professional Chuckwagon Association (CPCA), and placed tenth overall in the association last year.

This year's top selling tarp was that of World Professional Chuckwagon Association (WPCA) driver Kelly Sutherland, with Skyreach Equipment Ltd. paying $165,000 for the honor of having Sutherland as their driver. Buddy Bensmiller of Dewberry got the second highest price of the year, $120,000 paid by Copenhagen, Inc. Bensmiller also runs on the WPCA circuit.

The tarp of 1999 CPCA champion Wayne Knight sold to Ski Louise for $33,000. Other CPCA drivers who will be competing in Calgary and their Stampede sponsors are: Bert Croteau, Flint Energy; Grant Preece, Shoppers Drug Mart; Leo Tournier, Tide; Luke Tournier, Mr. Fireplace; Jim Knight, J.J. Barnicke Calgary Ltd.; Rod Salmond, Hooters Chuckwagon Team; Larry McEwen, Cactus Ridge Developments Ltd.; Roger Moore, Carson Wagonlit; Wayne Dagg, Calgary Flames Fireway; Dennis McGillivray, Crowfoot Ford; Ross Knight, Vulcan Motor Products; Stu Napper, Newell Group; and Ray Mitsuing, Airstream Heating Industries.

The 32 tarps sold for a whopping total of $1,653,500.

Jog on down to the library for great spring reading

By Daphne Schnurer
Librarian

What better way to spend this great spring weather than reading outdoors, so shake the dust off those sneakers and walk, run, bike or jog down to the Library for some great reading material.

New Books

For some real yummy, fast recipes you'll want to check out the new Master of Home's Quick Cooking Annual Recipes

- every single rapid recipe from the past year. Also this week, Attitude is Everything by Keith Harrell. Keith offers an enlightening, inspiring and practical guide for gaining control of your career and your life by ridding yourself of a negative attitude.

A Brief History of Canada is the most accessible and up-to-date single volume history available. It is designed for both student and general reader and serves as a guide through the many currents and meanings of Canada's diverse past.

For sports enthusiasts who are really getting spring fever, we have some great videos and books on everything from canoeing, fishing, and soccer to ball, just to mention a few.

Thank you to the Elk Point Historical Society for donating the Lac La Biche Chronicles: The Early Years, their newly published local history book. Also a big thank you to everyone who has generously donated books to the library. They are greatly appreciated.

United Church news

THIS SUNDAY, April 2: The lectionary readings for this Sunday are as follows: Numbers 21:4-9; Psalm 107:1-3, 17-22; Ephesians 2:1-10; John 3:14-21. This week's gospel reading records Jesus' testimony that He is sent by God, and that He and those who follow Him shall have eternal life. "No one ever went up into Heaven except the man who came down from Heaven, the Son of Man whose home is in Heaven."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Here lies the test: the light has come into the world, but men preferred darkness to light because their deeds were evil. Bad men all hate the light and avoid it, for fear their practices should be shown up. The honest man comes to the light so that it may be clearly seen that God is in all that he does. John 3:19-21

IN MEMORIAM

FERENCE, Marvin

In loving memory of Marvin Ference, who passed away March 25, 1999 at the age of 33.

The sudden way you had to leave
We shall always remember and wonder why

To know we never said goodbye
The things we feel so deeply are the hardest things to say;

But we, your family, love you in a very special way;
They say that memories are golden

Well that may be true
But we never wanted memories,
We only wanted you.

If tears could build a stairway
And heartaches make a lane
We, as your family would walk
The path to heaven

And bring you home again.

Sadly missed and always loved by Mom and Family.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(never known to fail)

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven,
Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my mother.
Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request).
There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mary I place this prayer in your hands (three times). Say this prayer three consecutive days and then make it known and it will be granted to you. Grateful thanks. L.D.
